

TE MATA ESTATE

COLERAINE 2013

Ripe scents of blood plum, berry compote then come lifted out of the glass with tobacco wet earth, mangrove greenery ... remarkably vital, red and black fruit characters. Very well formed, very good wine.

One of the southern hemisphere's finest cabernets, and the latest release enhances that reputation. Although it clearly needs to be cellared, the blackcurrant/tobacco/cedar nose and intense firm palate simply dripped with class.

★★★★★ - Lester Jesberg, Winewise, AU

Elegantly proportioned, the palate features a densely packed and intensely concentrated sweet core of ripe blackberry and blackcurrant fruit.

A wonderfully concentrated, elegantly proportioned Coleraine with outstanding finesse and structure.

They say there is no such thing as perfection in wine, but if there was one, this has to be it. Wonderful fruit richness and texture, classically structured by abundance of fine, chalky tannins. A profound offering from the New Zealand's greatest wine label, this majestic 2013 is complete.
